Walk lasted between 12:00 and 14:03

Oops, we did it again! To quote a line from a famous song. Well, not quite. We only tied the record for the week with 31. The prediction was for only 23.2 birds so we blew that out of the water. We give all the credit to Chris' sister Sharon, who came along on the walk for the first time. We often have good luck when a new walker appears. The highlight bird was the Black-throated Gray Warbler seen at the end of the walk by the turtle pond. We haven't seen one of those this season. We also got 6 Cedar Waxwings, another bird not showing up very often this season. Exceptional walk!
