Walk lasted between 12:00 and 14:10

This was a very good walk; we observed 26 species when the prediction was 23.7 and the record was 28. So, just 2 short of the record. A California Towhee and a Bewick's Wren, both 62% probable, would have got us what we needed tie the record. But, alas we didn't get them. What we did get though were two unusual birds for us lately: Black-throated Gray Warbler and Chipping Sparrow. So, overall a great walk.
