Walk lasted between 12:00 and 14:01

We observed 21 species, 1.8 short of the prediction. I was struck by the fact that 12 of these were probability 1 birds.

That sounds like a record but I'm not sure. Mostly we saw the same birds as last week, so not a whole lot to report.

I was surprised to find that a Red-tailed Hawk was only 12% probable; yet there it was clear as a bell. Overall, a good walk.
