Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:56

We had an outstanding walk: we set the record for the week by observing 24 species! The previous record was 23.

The prediction was 19.9, so we bettered that by a good bit. The Oak Titmouse family was still hanging around.

We also saw 4 Nuttall's Woodpeckers, which is probably a record.

The bird that brought us up to 24 was a Northern Rough-winged Swallow, which flew down in front of us and took a sip of water from the Caltech Hall pond. We've not seen that happen before. So, as I said, an outstanding walk.
