Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:57.

It was surprising to miss recording an Anna's Hummingbird. It was the bad lighting; we mostly were seeing silhouettes. But, we made up for it with a European Starling, a Turkey Vulture, and a couple of Hooded Orioles. All these came in at 12% probable. Two baby Cooper's Hawks were in the nest on Arden, bobbing their heads around. We saw one parent in addition. We did exceed the prediction for the week by 0.9 birds, so our total was on the mark.
