Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:49. Tournament Park was open.

We welcomed two new walkers to the walk, Cara Mayo and Matt Musser. They had a baby in a stroller and I didn't catch the baby's name, but the baby wasn't going to get credit for the walk anyway, because the baby never actually walked. That's a requirement. Cara and Matt are the 204th and 205th walkers to walk the Caltech bird walk. We are now up to 6501 person-walks on this the 1667th walk in the series dating back to 10/15/1986. Wow!

OK, as to the walk itself, it was a good one. Our 21 species was just two short of the maximum for the week and 5 above the median. The bird of the day was a Hooded Oriole spotted by Chris and Judi. Good for them! Overall, I give the walk a score of not half-bad.
