Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:42

John Beckett is back! John last walked in 2019 and it was good to have him walk the walk with us again.

We also welcomed back Allison Roberts, who lives in Australia and who endeavors to make the walk when she is back in Southern California. Good to see her too.

Bird wise, It was Ok but not spectacular. We observed 18 species when the prediction was 19.5.

We saw both swifts and swallows, so that was nice. Otherwise, pretty routine; no zero-probability birds today, but we didn't miss any 100% probable ones either. So, not half-bad.
