Walk lasted between 12:01 and 14:01.

We had an amazing, record-setting walk! We observed 25 species, two above the record for the week. And we did it without getting a 100% probable Mourning Dove. But we had 5 zero probable birds, including one of my favorites, the Yellow-headed Parrot, to more than make up for the lost Mourning Dove. And, we had a Great Blue Heron! Don't see many of those. Just a fantastic walk.
