Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:42.

We had two new walkers join us, Ellen Yu, a 20 year Caltech employee, and Robin Savoian, a 2-week Caltech employee. Nice. And they helped us beat the predicted 16.6 species by 2.4 species. We were only 4 shy of the record for the week. So, it was a good, but hot, walk. Best bird goes to the Oak Titmouse in Tournament Park, at which I think everyone got a good look. Next week the predicted number is again 16.6, but the record is only 20. So, hoping for a record-setting walk next week.
