Walk lasted between 12:00 and 14:05

We had a good walk, falling one short of the record number of species for the week. We observed 20 species, beating the prediction of 15.8 by 4.2 birds. The possibles that were left were only 12% probable with the exception of the Western Bluebird at 62%. We looked hard for that one as it would have got us a tie the record for the week. Alas, not to be. But, still a good walk.
