Walk lasted between 12:00 and ~13:40 (forgot to note end time).

It was a little cooler than last week, which was appreciated by all. Our 16 species beat the prediction by exactly 1 bird and we were 3 above the median. We did miss a 100% probable bird, the Black Phoebe, but we offset that with a zero probable bird, the Orange-crowned Warbler. Overall, a pretty good walk.
