Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:40

It was a very hot day and the bird count was low. We observed 11 species, when the prediction was 16.7. We did beat the minimum ever observed during week 32, which was 8. But we did not make the median of 13. So, not much to talk about. No one passed out from the heat, although the possibility was discussed.
