Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:42.

It was hot and we struggled with the numbers. The prediction was 16.5 and we wound up with 14. But we had two outstanding birds: a White-breasted Nuthatch and an Oak Titmouse. So, we had quality over quantity. Notably, we didn't see a Crow or a Raven or a Black Phoebe or a Mockingbird. Birds must be feeling the heat too. Hopefully, it cools off next week.
