Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:49

The remnants of Tropical Storm Mario made for a hot and muggy walk, with rain predicted starting tonight. We observed 19 species, which was 2.4 above the prediction, so bird wise it was fine. I would say the highlight birds were the oak titmice and a Yellow Warbler. We are on Yellow-rumped Warbler watch. The probability was 0.12 today and next but on week 40 it will be 0.75. Bring them on and bring a few other warblers with them.
