Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:55

We underperformed once again. We got 17 species when the prediction was 20.6. Big misses were the California Towhee and the Common Raven, both at 88% probable. But, we did get a White-crowned Sparrow that had 0% chance. So, it wasn't all bad. The yellow-rumps were back to the tune of 9, so I think there here to stay until week 16 of next year.
