Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:48

So, we backed down from last week's 26 to 18 observed species. It was 2.3 below the prediction. We didn't have any unusual birds on the south field, which was disappointing but not too surprising. We did get a couple of Townsend's Warblers and some unexpected White-throated Swifts, so that was a plus.

Hopefully, better numbers next week.
