Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:56

We observed 26 species, up from 22 last week, and 3.8 above the prediction. So, a very good walk. And we saw a lot of good birds: Hermit Thrush, Black-throated Gray Warbler, and White-breasted Nuthatch to name 3 zero-probability birds. And the Cassin's Kingbird stands out among the ones with positive probability. Very nice.
